DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Zhang et al. (US 2004/0222478, previously cited, hereinafter, Zhang.)

In regard to claim 1, in fig. 5A, Zhang discloses an integrated circuit device, comprising:

a substrate 552 having a plurality of active devices (integrated circuit layers);

an interconnection level 556 on the active devices having a plurality of metal line to provide interconnections between the active devices with a plurality of plugs;

a shielding level on the interconnection level having an electromagnetic shielding pattern 502; and a plurality of stitching studs 538 passing through the substrate;

wherein the shielding pattern, the plugs, and the stitching studs are electrically connected to form a housing of the IC device.

In regard to claim 3, the shielding level further comprises at least one passive element, inductor, for example.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zhang as applied to claims 1 and 3 above, and further in view of the Applicants admitted prior art (AAPA, FIG. 1.)

In regard to claims 2 and 4, Zhang discloses all of the claimed limitations as mentioned above except the shielding level having a protective layer and connection pads.

The AAPA discloses an analogous device including a passivation layer 109 and plurality of connections 108 in order to provide protection and connections to the outside devices.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to add electrical connections and pads in order to provide protection and connections to the outside devices.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 9/22/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. For instance, Applicants submit that the cited art does not disclose studs that pass through a substrate. This limitation can be seen in cited art, Zhang's fig. 5A, wherein the studs 554 and 552, which include 538 elements. The stud 554 further passes through the substrate in order to make connection to element 508, which is formed at the bottom surface of the substrate. See also paragraph [0053].

Furthermore, in response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., exposed, protrudes, etc.) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
